RELIGIOUS NEWS

THE General Assembly of the Pres-byterian church now in session in New York, will on Monday and the children. Tuesday of next week, celebrate the centennial of home missions. In all the Presbyterian churches of New York city and vicinity, and in fact throughout the country at large, discourses ap-propriate to the occasion of this home mission anniversary will be preached tomorrow. It is designed that the day and occasion shall generally be ob-served by the consideration of the history and work of home missions within the bounds of the Presbyterian denomination.

Hev. Dr. Guild therefore announces that tomorrow morning in the Provi-dence Presbyterion church, he will resenting the advances in the multigive a discourse on Presbyterian Home Mission Board; its origin, history, lessons and its perspective. Home missions in America are so intimately and even vitally blended with our national life that the treatment of the theme ought to be of interest, not alone from the standpoint of the church member, but also of that of the patriotic American citizen.

Annual Cymanfa Meetings.

The Weish Baptist Association of Churches will hold their annual Cymanfa services at Olyphant today and tomorrow, with preaching services in Welsh and English. A large number of visitors from churches throughout Northeastern Pennsylvania will be in attendance.

The Cymanfa of the Weish Calvinis tic Methodist churches of Pennsylvania will begin in the Bellevue Welsh C. M. church on Friday, May 23, and continue throughout Saturday and Sunday. Rev. S. T. Jones, of Rhyl. North Wales, will be present and preach at the opening service. He is regarded as one of the most eminent divines in Wales, Rev. R. T. Jones, D. D., of Ordination services will be held on Saturday afternoon, May 24, when R. O. Hughes, of Edwardsdale, will be advanced to the ministry. Preaching services will also be held Saturday evening and Sunday morning, afternoon and evening, with English services in the afternoon.

The State Association of Congregational churches will meet at Meadville. Pa., Tuesday, Wednesday and Thurs day, May 20, 21 and 22. Rev. David Jones, pastor of the First Welsh Congregational church, is the moderator, and will preach the annual sermon Tuesday evening.

A Coronation Service.

A unique service was held at the Penn avenue church a few days ago, when Miss S. C. Krigbaum received a pleasant surprise and a substantial gift from a number of the church members Miss Krighaum has been the faithful missionary of the church and Sunday school for the past eighteen years, and the event of her anniversary was emphasized by appropriate remarks by the pastor, Dr. Pierce, after which he presented her with a silver crown composed of silver dollars.

Miss Krigbaum is one of the constituent members of the Penn avenue church, and has given her life to the religious work in this city. She is widely known throughout the city, especially for her work among the poor, devoted Christian service. Churches honor themselves when they do honor to their faithful workers.

Other general figures are ciations and state and international committees; an average cost of $11 per 1.550 association Bible classes with 24 900 boys as members; a total attendactive members on the religious work committee; and more than 8,000 professed conversions during the year.

African and Colored Methodists.

The report of the secretary of educapal church, John R. Hawkins, mentions an increased attendance at all the schools during the past year, and a steady increase in the contributions to the cause. On account of the endowment fund $7,002 was sent in through 876 ministers during 1901; and the total amount of endowment money including that reported to the conferences, promises to be much larger than in 1900, when it was about $16. 000. A considerable increase is expected in the education share (8 per cent) of the dollar money, which was $7,953 in 1900, the secretary having already received $7,750, with 12 conferences to be heard from.

Bishop Derrick, of the African Methodist Episcopal church, has been invited and is expected to preach the memorial sermon at the three hundred and fifty-second anniversary of the the crypt of Canterbury cathedral, England.

Meeting of Stewards.

"The stewards of the Methodist Episcopal churches of the Wyoming district held a meeting yesterday in the Methodist Episcopal church at West Pitts-ton," said the Wilkes-Barre Record of Thursday. "There was a large attendance. Rev. Dr. Griffin presided. The secretary was T. W. Kyte. The presiding elder's salary was agreed on to remain the same as last year.

"A resolution was adopted that every minister in the district should arouse his parishioners to take the greatest possible interest in the Wyoming camp meeting and to keep up the good work from year to year. A committee was appointed relative to the revision of the districts of the Wyoming conference from six to five districts.'

BLACKBOARD LESSON HINTS

BY REV. ROBERT F. Y. PIERCE, D. D. (From Author's Notes in "The Sunday School Lesson Illustrator," Published by F. H.
Revel & Co., Chicago, Ill.]

The Early Christian Missionaries .- Ac. xiii:1-12. Golden Test.—'Go ye therefore, and teach all nations.''—Mat. xxviii:19.

A true church of Jesus Christ must be a missionary church. That the church at Jerusalem was a Home Missionary body is evident from its spirit and service. When the disciples were filled with the Holy Spirit, the little "Upper Room" could not hold them, but in the name of Jesus of Nazareth they went out and preached salvation to the heathen nearest them.

They did not wait for larger fields and greater opportunities, but empelled their townsmen and neighbors and friends to hear the gospel. In one day, thousands were added to the church, and hey remained steadfast in the doctrines of the daily they increased in mumbers, strength, Wisdom and power.

But persecutions betell the church and God used this means to scatter His people and thus sprend His Gospel to all the world. Antioch be-came the center of the great foreign mission came the center of the great foreign mission movements which were eventually to evangelize the world. Christ's work is missionary work. Those who early preached the gospel story by life and service were first called "Christians" at Antioch, when they became missionaries. The Christian's greatest need is a Pentecostal blessing; his greatest privilege is Christian service; his greatest joy is winning souls for Jesus.

INTRODICTION.—"We must now rob Peter to pay Paul," said one of the church fathers, as he noted the abrupt charge from the twelfth to the thirteenth chapter of the Acts. At this point the fromer wholly disappears for a time from sacred history, and the latter is introduced as the future leader. Ter years had chapted since the wonderful conversion near Damascus (Acts, Ik., 22), but the time had been profitably Ampleved. The apostle had been in training for his mission, and evenish had been shaping the church and preparing the field for him. Henceforth Christianity will slowly pass away from the dewish people and their country to make spicalided the Lord's plan (Maithew, xxi, 43), and we chall today study the beginnings of the first more ment to that end.
